

PRIVACY POLICY

1. Luxe & Life Travel Group, LLC operates www.luxeandlifetravel.com. This page serves to inform you of our policies regarding personal information (collection, use, and disclosure) from the user.
2. We may ask you for personally identifiable information such as: name, address, email, etc. This is for identification and communication purposes.
3. When we ask and collect information regarding an order or transaction, it will be solely used for that purpose. This implies you are giving your consent to providing the information requested. If it relates to marketing, you will be given the opportunity to consent or to decline.
4. Information (log data) is collected from your browser when you visit our website. This may include: your computers IP (Internet Protocol) address, browser version, operating system, time of site visit, etc. We may also use 3rd party sites such as Facebook Ads and Google Analytics to collect this time of information.

5. Our site does use cookies to collect information. You can disable them on your site or be notified when one is used. If you do disable them or refuse, some parts of our site may not be functional.
6. We take personal precautions to make sure we keep your personal information secure; however, no method is 100% secure. We will strive for complete security, but cannot fully guarantee this.
7. We do use 3rd party services for things such as data collection and payment processing. These companies have their own privacy policies which you should refer to if you have further questions.
8. Our site may have links to other websites and 3rd parties. Our privacy policy will not be in effect once you visit those sites. Please make sure you read the privacy policies of any 3rd party sites.